

食物事故報表 Food Incident Post

Heading	The U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) issued a notice regarding a recall of Spring Pasta Salad by Hy-Vee Inc. in the US due to potential contamination with Salmonella.
The incident	FDA issued a notice regarding a recall of Spring Pasta Salad by Hy-Vee Inc. in the US due to potential contamination with Salmonella. Details of products being recalled are listed in the FDA websites.
Source	FDA websites https://www.fda.gov/Safety/Recalls/ucm613777.htm https://www.fda.gov/Food/RecallsOutbreaksEmergencies/Outbreaks/ucm613806.htm
Position of CFS	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Information on product distribution outside the U.S. is not available from the FDA website. CFS is investigating whether the affected products have been imported to Hong Kong and is contacting the relevant authority for further information. Acquisition of the products through online purchase or international travel cannot be excluded. Please contact your supplier(s) for detail and advice. Consumers should discard the products and not consume them. CFS will remain vigilant and monitor for any new development and take appropriate actions when necessary. Investigation by CFS is ongoing. Salmonella infection may cause fever and gastrointestinal upset such as abdominal pain and diarrhea. People with lowered immunity such as infants and the elderly could present with more severe and even life-threatening infection.
Additional information	NA

Posted on : 19 July 2018