

食物事故報表 Food Incident Post

Heading	Media reported that the Texas Department of State Health Services has ordered a recall of all oysters harvested in the TX 1 area of southeastern Galveston Bay, Texas, US after reports of dozens of cases of gastrointestinal illness among people who ate oysters from those waters.
The incident	Media reported that the Texas Department of State Health Services has ordered a recall of all oysters harvested in the TX 1 area of southeastern Galveston Bay, Texas, US after reports of dozens of cases of gastrointestinal illness among people who ate oysters from those waters. Recalled products: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ All oysters harvested in the TX 1 area of southeastern Galveston Bay <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● include oysters in the shell and shucked oysters harvested in the area from Nov. 17 through Dec. 7 Details of products being recalled are listed in the websites of the Texas Department of State Health Services and the media.
Source	Website of the Texas Department of State Health Services https://www.dshs.texas.gov/news-alerts/dshs-recalls-oysters-harvested-area-southeastern-galveston-bay Website of the media https://www.foodsafetynews.com/2022/12/oysters-recalled-in-texas-after-dozens-of-illnesses-linked-to-oysters-from-particular-harvest-location/
Position of CFS	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Information on product distribution outside the US is not available from the websites of the Texas Department of State Health Services and the media. The Centre for Food Safety (CFS) is investigating whether the affected products have been imported to Hong Kong and is contacting the relevant authority for further information. Preliminary investigation did not identify local sale or import of the affected products.

食物事故報表 Food Incident Post

- Acquisition of the products through online purchase or international travel cannot be excluded.
- Consumers should discard the products and not consume them.
- CFS will remain vigilant and monitor for any new development and take appropriate actions when necessary.
- Investigation by CFS is ongoing.

Additional information

NA

Posted on: 12 December 2022